THE NEVADA SENATE.

The political complexion of the lower house of our next Legislature has previously been correctly stated to be Republicans 35, Democrats 15. The Senate, we are now able to state, will be composed of 12 Republicans, 12 Democrats and 1 Independent. The latter is Senator Ross, of our own county. It will thus be seen that he controls the political complexion of the Senate, and can decide either in favor of the Republicans or Democrats. From a conversation held with him a few days since we can almost announce positively that he will go into caucus with the Republicans, and thus give us the organization and control of the Senate. We have advised him to such a course, and his own inclinations and preferences point him onward in the same path of duty. Mr. Ross has never been anything but a Republican, and it is clearly his duty to act with that organization, when his services are so promptly demanded. He no longer has cause to isolate himself; to remain outside when he can do so much good inside of the Republican party, and we trust he will place himself where he properly belongs. We believe he will.

CLAIMS FOR VICE-PRESIDENT

There is talk of electing Senator Elaine President of the Senate immediately after assembling, not only to act as Vice-President up to the close of the session on the 4th of March, but to administer the affairs of the Government in the event of any contingency, such as a refusal of the Lower House to go into Joint Convention. It is eminently proper that a Senator whose term does not expire on the 4th of March should be elected to the Presidency of the Senate, if only to cover the trouble which will arise by the 4th falling on Sunday.

News-Special.—We have already announced that the Winnemucca Register had discontinued its daily edition, and now runs a weekly only.

We notice other changes since the campaign is over.

The Pioche Record has abandoned its daily issue, and will hereafter appear as a tri-weekly. We are sorry that the Record is compelled to shorten sail, and trust the time will soon come when it will appear of a larger and better than ever.

The Elko Independent has also been compelled to reduce its size from a six to a five-column paper. Elko is hardly large enough to support a daily paper of the size of the Elko Independent. That time will come though.

The "Second Edition" of the Sherman Record-Union is a great improvement and makes that paper much more interesting to its readers in this section. That paper has, by the way, made strides lately, and comes now very near being a complete newspaper.

ELECTION NOTES.—In the Fourth District, California, returns are in from all the counties except Mono, giving Pacheco a majority of 40. As Mono went Republican last year, the election of Pacheco may be considered an assured fact.

In the Third California District the returns are not yet all in, but as far as received, Luttrell has a majority of from 300 to 400.

South Carolina elects all of the Republican ticket except Governor, and gives the State to Hayes by from 3,000 to 4,000 majority.

All of the Democratic leaders who went down to Louisiana to oversee the count of votes, are returning, evidently satisfied that the State is Republican.

JOHN QUINCY ADAMS, James K. Polk, Zachary Taylor, James Buchanan and Abraham Lincoln were elected to the Presidency by a minority of the popular vote. Add Hayes to the list.

THERE is $90,000 locked up in Virginia and Gold Hill, awaiting the result of the election.

1,280 children in the Virginia public schools.

THE ELECTION.

REPUBLICANS CLAIM THE ELECTION OF HAYES.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—A Journal's New Orleans special says the Returning Board is in session. Palmor, Trumbull and Stalls were present. Only half the returns are in, and it may be ten days before the votes on electors are known. Many of the Democrats leave for home in a day or two, only five remaining to watch the count until the end. The leading Democrats express the opinion that the State will go for Hayes. If the contest is transferred to Washington they predict that Hayes' inauguration will be the signal for trouble all over the country. The Republicans reply to the Democrats is being revised and will probably be presented to-night. They will decline to intrude themselves upon the Returning Board until the Board invites them, which it is very likely not to do. Everything is quiet in New Orleans.

Hartford.—It has been discovered that in some of the Democratic ballots cast in this State the name of Charles R. Ingorsoll, one of the electors, was printed Ingorsol. In one town nearly all the ballots cast were of this description. How extensively they were used is not known. The canvassers would most likely count these votes for the regular nominee, but the case seems similar to the one reported from South Carolina.

San Francisco.—A press dispatch from Salem, Oregon, says: It is announced by Democrats here today that the following programme will be carried out in reference to the case of J. W. Wells, Presidential Elector on the Republican ticket, who was postmaster of Lafayette: The law of Oregon provides that the Secretary of State, in presence of the Governor shall count the votes and give to the person having the largest number of votes a certificate of election, giving the Secretary no power except to count the votes and issue certificates; but it is asserted that a writ will be served on the Secretary, issued out of the Supreme Court, enjoining the issuing of a certificate to Wells, and giving it to the highest elector on the Democratic ticket.

New York.—A Columbia special says a rough calculation made from official returns from twenty-eight counties of South Carolina give a Republican Secretary of State, and an estimate on the vote for Governor of the four remaining counties give Hayes about a thousand majority. The same authority gives the State to Hampton by about 1,200. Neither of these estimates is regarded by the Democrats as correct. They claim that Tilden will carry a sufficiency of the electoral vote to elect him, but will not disclose their reasons for this assertion. The Republicans now concede the election of Hampton on the fall returns, but claim that the remainder of the Republican State ticket is elected.

Chicago.—A Washington special says the Democratic newspapers of Charleston South Carolina, which reached Washington to-day concede that Hayes has carried the State according to Democratic figures, by over 4,000, but the election of Hampton is claimed. The Republicans have both benches of the legislature.

Chicago.—The Journal's Washington special says all signs indicate that the Democrats are concentrating their strongest efforts on the electoral vote of Florida, and that while the struggle will be kept up in Louisiana and South Carolina, the leaders have determined to secure Florida and thus end the fight. Information received at Republican headquarters proves this to be true, and prominent Republicans in Florida have been advised of the change in the Democratic programme, and to prevent its execution by seeing that the count of the returns shall be strictly honest and in accordance with the vote cast.

A New Orleans special says the Democrats are rejoicing over a dispatch received from Governor Carroll of Maryland from Florida, claiming that State by twelve hundred majority. The reply to the Democratic invitation for a joint convention prepared by Stanley Mathews, is now being considered by a meeting of the Republicans, including Stoughton of New York, Sherman of Ohio, Kelly of Pennsylvania and Hale of Maine.

Senator Conover of Florida passed through Washington to-day. He thinks Hayes has carried Florida.

Washington.—The ineligibility of the Vermont Postmaster elected a United States Elector is the chief topic discussed. Letters have been sent from the Department of Justice to the proper judicial authorities in Vermont, principal object of which seems to be to loan each legislative or judicial Act bearing upon cases with any similarity to that now existing. Judge Taft has been approached for an opinion, but the Attorney-General has been careful to make no expression of his views. He is particular with regard to being quoted on the matter, but careful constructions of conversations held with him leads to the belief that he holds where one ineligible Elector was elected, such circumstance does not elect an opposing Elector.

AFTER FIVE YEARS.

E. H. Parsons, the Verdict Railroad Robber, who was sentenced to the Penitentiary for Twenty Years, and Escaped in the Outbreak of 1871, Retaken—The Masher of the Law and of Love—Description of the Man.

[From the Virginia Enterprise of Thursday.] Day before yesterday there were frequent communications between Chief Lackey of this city and Chief Mills of San Francisco. The end was that on instructions from Chief Lackey one Edward Morgan was arrested in San Francisco, while stopping at the California House, as E. B. Parsons, who participated in the great railroad robbery at Verdi, and who was sentenced to the State Prison from Washoe for twenty years therefor. At first there was some trouble to identify Morgan as the man, but on a telegram from Chief Lackey, Frank Rockwell, one of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s messengers, was brought face to face with the man, and so perfect was his recognition of him as Parsons that no doubt was left in the minds of the San Francisco police, and he was held.

The particulars of the robbery at Verdi, with which Parsons was connected and for which he was sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment in the State Prison, are too well known to need recapitulation here. There were taken at that time $41,880, of which all, except a few hundred dollars squandered by the parties or lost in the plants made by them, was recovered. Chief Lackey himself assisted in raising one plant of $20,000 near Hunter's bridge. All the participants in the robbery were caught and sent up, Parsons among the number. He subsequently escaped, was retaken, escaped again, was retaken again, and finally joined in the great escape of the convicts on the 17th of September, 1871, when twenty-nine of them succeeded in making their escape. Some six or seven of them have not yet been retaken.

After his escape, as above mentioned, Parsons fled the State. He was subsequently heard from at different places, and finally settled down at Cottonwood, Utah. Notwithstanding the offer by the State of $1,000 reward for the apprehension of each of them who escaped, he was untroubled so long as he kept away from the State. Still, in a detective sense, an eye was kept on him and all his movements were known. But there was in the eastern part of this State a maiden, "nameless here for evermore," who had woven around this bold, bad man the meshes of love, and for whom he pined in the neighboring Territory of Utah. Regardless of the meshes of the law, which were ready to entrap him should he venture this way, the ties which held him to this girl who was drawing too strongly for him to resist them. He yielded to their strength and has been retaken.

By means of an intercepted correspondence and through decoy letters the designs of Parsons and his movements became known to our police. His intentions were to reach San Francisco in disguise, where he was to be joined by the object of his fond devotions. They were then to escape together to Mexico. It was while carrying out these intentions, and while waiting for the arrival of his paramour, that he was captured as above mentioned. Great credit is due to Chief Lackey for the skill with which he has managed through all these long years, to keep himself posted as to the whereabouts and movements of this man and the promptness with which he acted when the time for action came. To Chief Mills and his force is also due all praise for the promptness and efficiency of their movements when informed that Parsons was in their midst, and for their energy and skill in penetrating his disguise and capturing their man.

Parsons is a native of New Hampshire and now a man of thirty-four years. He is described as being 5 feet 10 inches high, with grayish blue eyes, Auburn brown hair, sandy mustache, high forehead, round face and bearing a scar on his left forehead. Upon his arrest and identification word was sent to P. C. Hyman, Superintendent of the State Prison, and steps were taken for a requisition on Governor Irwin of California for him, but Chief Ellis telegraphed that it was unnecessary, and last evening at 4 o'clock he was taken on board the train, and this morning will reach his old home in the Nevada State Prison at Carson. When once delivered there the reward of $1,000 will be claimed, and doubtless paid, for it has been well earned.

MINING NOTES.

There are assessments on 22 mines in Nevada at present, aggregating $702,700.

The California mine has shipped so far the present month bullion to the amount of $241,171 30.

Work will be resumed at the South End mine as soon as its present financial difficulties are adjusted.

The daily railroad shipments of ore from Virginia mines to mills on the Carson River average from 80 to 100 tons.

The bullion product from the Justice will aggregate $200,000 for the month of November.

Work on the Rock Island mine has been temporarily suspended for the purpose of putting in a new set of 14-inch pumps.

The Original Comstock Gold and Silver Mining Company have sold the Colwell claim to the Bonanza Co. for $1,000.

An assessment of $1 a share has been levied on Condit and Curry, delinquent December 17, and an assessment of $3 a share on Utah, delinquent Dec. 17.

About forty men have been discharged from Ophir, and more are to follow. This does not indicate a falling off in the ore production of the mine, as many think, but is the result of the accomplishment of a good deal of heavy work, such as putting in bob-stations and tank-pits and repairs on the incline.
